THE DEDICATION CEREMONY

This Memorial Day we will be having our annual dedication to those service men and women who gave their lives so that we may have our freedoms. Our service will start at 8 am at the Flagpole Garden at Tonry Cemetery, Route 111A and will conclude at 8:30 am. We will be having the Epping American Legion come by and dedicate a wreath to our departed. There will be a short speech and other dedications.

Please come and bring your children so they may learn more about WHY we have a 3-day weekend on Memorial Day, and its cost. We would also challenge all of you to bring others with you this year. Thank you in advance for your participation.

Any Veteran interested in participating, please contact Jon Worrall, USA Ret at 603-566-8450. Uniforms are not necessary but requested. Let your neighbors see and understand your sacrifice.

PHOTOS/MEMORABILIA OF ONE WHO HAS DIED IN SERVICE

Please bring photographs or memorabilia of a person you know or admire who has died while serving in our country's armed services. That's what this day is about so let's put a face to some of the people we are remembering. Bring items to the ceremony and then to the Community Center.

If you are interested in playing softball, please email Ed Doris at edoris@comcast.net.

MEMORIAL DAY – WE FORGET

Memorial Day 2016.... May 30th. Many Americans will sleep in and then enjoy a day of barbecues and family fun. Some take the day to do yard work or run errands. Kids relax, play video games, hang with friends and go to their family outings. This day typically marks the start of the summer vacation season and that's what most people are thinking about.

Many Forget. How did we get here? We enjoy freedom. FREEDOM. Many take that for granted. They can't fathom the pain, suffering and families torn to pieces by grief in order to obtain and sustain that freedom. People died so we can enjoy the luxuries we have today. Yes, luxuries. If the people serving our country who died in the 1940's and early 1900's could see the luxuries we have today, they'd be astonished. If they could see the majority of Americans enjoying the day off without remembering the ultimate sacrifice they paid, they would cry. Wake up America! My family served our country. My grandfather in the Spanish American War, my father in Korea, my Uncles in World War II. I've seen the pain and suffering their service brought to my family. My Uncle Robert fought in the Battle of the Bulge and was wounded by shrapnel in the gut for which he received a Purple Heart. My Uncle Jim fought in Guadalcanal and witnessed many atrocities that stayed with him and haunted him. My Uncle Dan was stationed in the Philippines. Uncle Dan was killed at the end of the war on base by a freak accident where he was electrocuted. After years of complications from his war injury, my Uncle Robert died of pancreatic cancer, which they said was linked to shrapnel that remained in his gut. My Uncle Jim fought demons for years. He would wake up yelling because he saw and smelled the burning bodies in his sleep. Guadalcanal would not go away. In 1962 he shot himself to end his pain. My dad cleaned up his blood. My father went on to try to assuage his grief by becoming a public servant. He was a State Representative and State Senator in Massachusetts. He worked in a hospital and for the welfare department before he became a public servant. He was the champion of veterans rights in State House. Veterans called him "The Veterans Voice." They came to him with their problems. He fought for them. I remember one time he left the house at 2 am because he got a call from someone that a veteran had a gun and was threatening to commit suicide. My father drove two hours to see him and talked him out of it. He was there for veterans, police officers, firemen or anyone who worked for the public good. He had to be their advocate in order to channel his pain. I saw his pain ooze out of him when he heard the song Danny Boy and he would cry thinking of his brother who died in the Philippines. My Dad died young at 66 as the result of living a hard life. He drank a little too much, smoked too much at times and ate too much. Like many of his generation, families and communities suffered, grieved and moved on the best they could. Our current generation is doing the same with losses we've had in the Middle East and other places. The ultimate sacrifice is being paid and a new generation of families are grieving and trying to get through the next day. All for us and our freedom. Freedom isn't free.

The people who died in service to our country deserve your time on Memorial Day. They've earned it. Their families deserve your time. My Uncle Dan, Uncle Jim and Uncle Robert deserve your time. I'm bringing a picture of my Uncle Dan to our Memorial Day Service and then to the Pancake Breakfast afterward. Remember him. Remember the others. Please bring a picture of a person you know or admire who died in service to our country to the Memorial Day Service and the Pancake Breakfast after the service so we can see their face and say a prayer for them. I encourage you to wake up your kids and take them to the service at 8am at Tonry Cemetery on Route 111-A. Maybe they will ask who the people are in the pictures that people are holding? That's a good question! Come to the community gathering immediately after the ceremony for a free pancake breakfast and then a family softball game at 10am. A community remembering together makes the day more powerful. If you can't make it, please make sure you take 5-10 minutes in quiet to pray for the departed or to just say thank you for their service.

I personally would like to thank Jon Worrall and the other people involved in our Memorial Day Ceremony. See you on Monday May 30th. Don't forget to bring pictures of people you know or admire who have died in service to our country.

BRENTWOOD FIREWORKS IN 2016? WE NEED YOUR HELP TO MAKE IT HAPPEN

A group of volunteers has been working to bring fireworks to Brentwood in 2016, however, we still have a gap of approximately $3,500. If you would like to make a donation, you can leave it at the town hall or mail it to Michael Esters at 20 Lyford Lane, Brentwood, NH 03833. Checks can be made out to "Brentwood Fireworks". If you would like to join our committee we would welcome the help. We can be reached at Brentwoodfireworks@gmail.com.

In an age where so much occurs digitally, the fireworks show is a unique way for the town to celebrate our nation and visit together. Last year we had a fireworks show after several years without one. It was a very successful event with several thousand people enjoying food, activities and a terrific show. We have agreement from the county to host the event, a contract with the same fireworks company that did the show for many years, and have made lots of progress collecting the necessary funds. Now we just need to finish closing the gap. Time is running out and this next month will determine whether we can hold the event.

Let's make Independence Day a highlight again this year!

CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Now that spring is really on its way, it seems time to remind everyone about the pleasures of the Exeter River, which meanders straight through the middle of our town from west to east. The river is quiet and scenic, and that is in large part thanks to the vision, dedication and many hours of hard work put in by the volunteers at the Conservation Commission who have gone before us.

A large number of acres along the river are in conservation, so that businesses and habitations are out of sight and out of earshot. We should also thank the individual land donors and the various agencies who have helped us and provided funds, among which are you, the taxpayers. Before the Europeans settled our area, the river served for transportation as well as a source of food. The later people exploited the river for power, and built a number of dams along the way, some of which are still extant. Now the river serves primarily for recreation. You can enjoy it as a fisherman (the river is generally stocked every spring with trout and bass). The DES reports some mercury in the water, which may influence one's willingness to eat one's catch. Check the data on their website if you have doubts. Kayak and canoe people can enjoy most of the river at high water, and the lower reaches for most of the year. If we ever again get a good cold snap when the snow is at a minimum, the long-distance skating is just wonderful.

The water quality is not good enough for drinking, but it's okay for swimming and boating. You can see the findings of the Volunteer River Assessment Program (VRAP) on nh.des.gov. The data from 2015, including a number of parameters, are all below standard levels, except for one pH (acidity) reading. There are various spots where the water is deep enough for a swim. Geomorphic studies of the three portions of the river (Brentwood is represented on the middle and lower portions) were published in 2010 and 2009 respectively) and are available on the nh.des.gov website. Additional information can be found at <http://granitviewii.unh.edu>.

River access is available at a convenient landing on Rowell Road just after its westward termination at Haigh Road. A good takeout spot downriver is at Pickpocket Dam (on the left) at the Exeter town line, at the intersection of Pickpocket and Cross Roads. This stretch of the river is generally navigable by canoe or kayak all summer long.

Going upstream, Rte 111A comes close to the river across from Brentwood Country Store (Lindy's) and again at Mill Road. There are low grade rapids intermittently along that section, but nothing above class II except the small bit immediately below the dam at Crawley Falls (where Lindy's is located). In low water it is pretty much impassable for a good stretch below Lindy's.

There is a lot of argument in the conservation community about the best way to manage debris in the river. Those who like to boat like to keep the river pretty clear. Portaging is a nuisance and obstacles like fallen branches can be dangerous. On the other hand these provide quiet habitat for flora and fauna to grow, and are favored by fishermen and other wildlife lovers. Because the eastern half of our river is navigable most of the time, that portion is pretty well maintained by the people who live along it.

We are hoping that the people in the town will explore the river for themselves, to watch the seasons change and observe the birds (mergansers, wood ducks, great blue herons and many more), the other animals (including the relatively endangered Blanding's turtle, minks, beavers and otters), and just to sense the peacefulness.

For the more adventurous, they can amuse themselves with the few rapids and pit their strength against the portages. They can even try their patience and endurance doing the whole stretch of the river from Chester through Sundown, Fremont, Brentwood, Exeter, and Stratham to the mouth of the Squamscott River (the Exeter River so named after it turns salty and tidal just below the Great Dam in Exeter) and into Great Bay. The trip is long and gnarly, and takes more than one day, but it's been done.

Of course all sports are inherently dangerous, and one should be well supplied with life preserving vests and take reasonable caution when one is out on the water. Assuming that, we hope that all Brentwooders will take advantage of this lovely resource right here in our neighborhood. Boats are available on loan from the Rec Department.

Again, we hope that you will take an interest in our Commission. Perhaps you would like to help with finding put-in sites upstream. Or maybe you could help tackle the issue of the health of the water. You are welcome.

Emily Schmalzer - Conservation Commission

SYMPATHY

Sincere sympathy and friendship are extended to the family of Hollis D. Martin, 81, who died April 19 at Exeter Hospital. His parents were Hollis D. Martin Sr. and Vinie (St. John) Martin. He grew up in Brentwood on the family farm and in West Kingston. More recently he had lived in Exeter for over 30 years and in Fremont for the past eight years. He was a work leader for the Town of Exeter highway department, snow plowed for Brentwood and Kingston, co-owned an antique shop at his Exeter home, and ran a lobster business for four years. He greatly enjoyed fishing and lobstering. He was a former member of the Kingston Veterans Club and the Plaistow Fish and Game Club.

FIRE SAFETY

It's that time of year when we're cleaning up our yards and getting ready for summer. If you are collecting yard debris for a burn pile or have an outside fireplace, we'd like to take this opportunity to remind you that all burning must be conducted in accordance with state laws, state rules, local ordinances and under a "permit to kindle fire" issued by the local Fire Warden. For any open burning a written fire permit is required. Seasonal permits are required for use of outside fireplaces, camp or cooking fires. Even with a permit, no open burning is allowed between the hours of 9 am and 5 pm unless it is raining. The permittee will be required to have suppression equipment on-site (such as a hose) while burning and the fire will have to be totally extinguished or be constantly attended.

Materials Acceptable for Burning:

- Campfire wood
- Charcoal
- Clean pallets

If Generated On-site:

- Brush (less than 5 inches in diameter)
- Clean lumber scraps (private single family residences only)

Materials Not Acceptable for Burning:

- Animal, vegetable or kitchen waste
- Construction & demolition debris

- Coated or laminated paper or cardboard
- Household trash
- Tires
- Treated or painted wood
- Plastics
- Used oil, gasoline and hazardous waste

Outside fireplace, camp or cooking fires should:

- Be in an area cleaned to mineral soil at least 8 feet across;
- Have at least 6 inches of sand or gravel under the fire for fire built on the ground;
- Have no limbs or other burnable material to a height of 10 feet above the fireplace area; and
- Be constructed so they cannot be moved from their mineral soil area.

If you wish to obtain a burn permit, call the fire station at 642-8132 prior to 4:30 pm on the day you wish to burn. If no one is available, leave a message in the burn permit mailbox #6. Permits are also available online at: <https://nhdfweb.sovsports-net.net/>

BRENTWOOD'S ROAD NAMES

LYFORD LANE

Lyford Lane is a relatively new road whose name refers to another of Brentwood's oldest families. Lawrence Lyford of Middle Road, the only Lyford in town at the time of his death in 2010, could name his ancestors back for nine generations, just like that. The first Lyford came from England to Exeter soon after it was established in 1638. Some early references in Exeter records show that Moses Lyford, born in Exeter about 1656, married Rebecca Dudley in November 1681; also that in 1698 sixty acres of land were assigned to Thomas Lyford, and two hundred acres to Stephen Lyford. The families increased and prospered. Several Lyford families were living in this area when Brentwood was incorporated in 1742. A number of Lyfords also settled in what later became Fremont.

As Charles Bell wrote in his history of Exeter, "The Lyford family is another of those who have long clung to Exeter. They have not been ambitious for public employment, but they have led respectable, useful lives. Some of the earlier members of the family followed the sea, but most of them have settled independently upon their farms. The late Gideon C. Lyford was at one time largely engaged in trade and always sustained the character of an upright, honorable dealer."

In 1768 Capt. Biley Lyford, whose son John was then six years old, was on the committee that planned for four one-room schools throughout the town, a plan that served the town's educational needs until Swasey Central School opened in 1951.

When the selectmen chose the Lyford name for the new road, yes, it was in tribute to the long succession of families, but it also served to recognize our own Lawrence Lyford, who surely represented the best of the Lyford tradition. Expert logger and woodsman, leader in the New Hampshire forest industry and woodland owners' organizations, early proponent of selective tree cutting and forest conservation, passionate historian and raconteur, dedicated churchman, Lawrence's presence in this town was felt in many ways. It's not easy to do a summary of his achievements. For a bit more detail, residents of Lyford Lane and others might be interested to ask at the Library for the Brentwood Newsletter issues of September and October 1990, in which Rita Guarino wrote about Lawrence's large collection of American felling axes and his accounts of earlier times in Brentwood.

KINDERGARTEN

What do kindergarten students have in common with Thomas Edison? Thomas Edison conducted thousands of experiments before he produced a light bulb that was used in homes and offices. Like that great inventor, kindergarten students wonder, they ask questions, they try and then they try again. They make many mistakes before they “get it!” In our kindergarten classroom Mrs. Desmarais, Mrs. Early, and Miss Pappo keep in mind that practice and repetition, modeling and coaching, revisiting and re-teaching may be needed before our students meet learning goals.

Here are a few of the skills and concepts we are focusing on during the fourth quarter.

- Understand that teen numbers are made of a group of ten and some more ones.
- Perform addition and subtraction for numbers within 10.
- Identify and describe 2 and 3-dimensional shapes.
- Blend sounds to read words.
- Segment sounds to spell words.
- Identify all upper and lowercase letters and associate the most commonly used sound for each letter.

In addition to teaching literacy and math skills, we also want to spark wonder and curiosity in our students. Our “How-To Center” has been very active recently. Students are discovering how to put a flashlight together so it will work, and how to mix primary colors to make secondary colors. They are independently following step by step illustrated directions to build a robot, to draw a kite, and to balance a piece of clay with a variety of weights.

The wonder and curiosity will continue until the end of the year as we learn about insects; their habitats, bodies, and life cycles. Our kindergarten students remind us that the world is full of things to wonder, ask questions and learn about.

GRADE 1

First grade has been working on a weather unit. We have done some experiments with wind, testing the force of the wind on objects to see what objects will move and which ones will not. We have tested the Bernoulli Principle of lift by using the scientific method – gathering materials, making a hypothesis, and then recording what actually happened and forming a conclusion.

First grade has also done a STEM lesson to test wind by examining materials that can be used to make a sail for a sailboat, determining the best material to use, and then designing a sail and testing it on a track. We will culminate this unit by visiting the Children’s Museum in Dover and learn more about wind and lift, and then design a flying machine that we can test out on one of the Museum exhibits.

First grade is using their mathematical understanding of symmetry to create a kite design, their engineering know-how to build the kite and experiment outside to see if it will fly. It is a fun project that is a combination of Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts and Math. (STEAM)

First graders have been writing “How-To” books and posters to learn to be explicit so that everyone can follow the directions. We also will do some poetry writing in the month of April and later finish the year with opinion writing.

Math has kept us busy studying place value. We have been practicing our math facts and learning how to use the facts we know to help us with the ones we don’t. We will be starting our biology unit as we learn about plants and visit the SST in May.

GRADE 2

Second graders are practicing patriotic songs such as America the Beautiful and Yankee Doodle Dandy in preparation for the annual second grade patriotic concert in April! Thank you to parents who helped our singers decorate their patriotic t-shirts for the concert. We’re reading and writing about U.S. symbols such as the American Flag, the White House, Statue of Liberty, and the Liberty Bell. Students have planned and brought in materials to create three dimensional models of these symbols, which are on display in our school lobby. We have been observing the two eaglets and bald eagle parents, aptly named “Mr. President” and “First Lady,” via webcam from Washington D.C. April is Poetry Month and our second grade poets are writing various types of poems of their own in poetry booklets – cinquains, alliteration poems, and animal poems to name a few! We continue to learn strategies for adding and subtracting multi-digit numbers. Plans are underway for our end of the year field trip to the Boston Aquarium to celebrate our study of the ocean!

WE MOVE IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Swasey Swinging Stars had their show at Exeter High School on Wednesday, April 6th. The show had many new and exciting routines compiled by our Swasey students. Can you imagine Irish step dancing while jumping rope? Unbelievable! There are 168 members of the club in all the grades K-5. The fifth graders had a strong showing of 39 members.

May brings a unit of striking with a long handled implement; field hockey sticks, throwing and catching with milk cartons and whiffle balls for grades 1-2 and lacrosse for grades 3-5. Students keep a portfolio which includes scores from track and field events; 50 yard, 100 yard dash, shuttle run, and long jump. It is a busy time planning for field day at Camp Lincoln.

See you soon, keep on moving.

LEARNING IN THE LIBRARY APRIL 2016

Research fun is on its way for everyone in May. First graders are excited to use our PebbleGo animal database, which is designed just for our younger researchers. Second graders will choose a topic that they want to become “experts” in and pursue resources to learn about their topic. They will then use an app called Chatterpix Kids to make an animated audio recording of what they learned.

The 2016 Olympic Games will be the inspiration for grades 3, 4, and 5. Third graders will each choose a country that participates in the Olympics and then learn about that country on the Encyclopedia Britannica online resource. Fourth graders will focus on sports and fifth graders on the athletes, using a variety of Olympic websites to facilitate their research. They will be collaborating on Google slides to create a presentation that will give viewers a taste of what they might experience during the Rio Olympic Games in August.

Looking for a good home for the books your children have read or outgrown? Consider doing a little spring cleaning, and send your gently used books into our library for our summer book swap. We are hoping to collect enough books so every student can choose a “new” book to bring home for the summer! Books will be accepted until June 3rd.
